NAIL EMBEDDED IN CHILD'S BRAIN CAUSES DEATH

Infant of Virgil Myner Falls Upon Instrument Which Penetrates Nostril

ITALIAN SUCCUMES TO HEART ATTACK

Laborer Dies Suddenly While at Work---Organic Trouble Fatal

Falling upon a nail which entered the nostril and penetrated the brain caused the death of Virgil Myner, aged about three years, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. David Myner, who reside on the Ford's Mill road, a few miles from this city.

The accident occurred at the home of the child's parents, about three o'clock Sunday afternoon. Death ensued a short time after the accident.

Mrs. Myner had left the child in a room on the bed, giving it two or three thirty penny nail to play with while she was attending to some of her duties about the house. It is supposed the child attempted to get off the bed and fell upon one of the nails.

The mother was attracted by the cries of the baby and rushed to its assistance and found it upon the floor with the nail imbedded in its head. Medical attention was at once summoned and the sharp instrument was removed and everything possible was done to save its life, but without result, and it died a short time afterwards.

The mother was frantic with grief over the accident, which is one of the most shocking that has occurred in that neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. Myner came to Bourbon county from Nicholas several years ago. The body of their infant son will be taken to that county today for burial at Mt. Pleasant.

ITALIAN LABORER

Victim of Attack of Organic Heart Trouble.

John Lacaprara, aged 54 years, an Italian laborer, dropped dead yesterday evening about six o'clock, as the result of an attack of heart trouble. He had been ill a few days. Coroner Rudolph Davis, who was called to investigate the cause of his death, found it was due to organic affection.

Lacaprara has been her almost two months in the employ of D. A. Sant, foreman on the sewer construction work which is under contract by the Hurley Construction Company. He had been feeling badly for several days and was unable to be at his work until yesterday morning when he again resumed his position.

He continued at his labors all day and when the force of workmen quit for the day, he was engaged in gathering up his tools when he fell to the ground. Death ensued in three minutes.

It is said Lacaprara suffered a similar attack while he was working in South Bend and as a result was confined in a hospital in that city for several weeks. Dr. Brown, who had been attending him, was summoned, but before the physician arrived life was extinct. Coroner Davis was summoned to view the remains, which were ordered removed to the undertaking establishment of Mr. Geo. W. Davis, on Fifth street, where they were prepared for burial.

and a son-in-law in this city. All of whom are engaged as laborers on the sewer construction and who lived with him on West Third street. The remains will be interred in this city Wednesday morning.

$39,390 PAID IN CASH FOR BOURBON COUNTY FARM.

W. H. Whaley, Jr., of Paris, purchased Friday from the heirs of late Geo. C. Lockhart, the Morris farm of 363 acres at $130 per acre or a total of $39,390.

The place is known as one of the best and most productive pieces of farm land in this country, 250 acres of which is first-class tobacco land. The highest price realized at the Bourbon Tobacco Warehouse in Paris for a crop of tobacco this season was paid for a crop raised on this place by Plummer & McClure.

The improvements consist of an extra well constructed colonial ten-room residence with other necessary improvements, all of which are in excellent repair, miles of practically new woven wire fencing, etc. The place is located at the intersection of the Brentsville and Clay and Kiser pikes and all is in bluegrass and small grain with the exception of eighty-five acres.

Mr. Whaley also bought all of the live stock on the place from McClure & Plummer, who have had the farm under rental.

The farm and live stock together cost Mr. Whaley a total of $42,000, all of which was paid in cash. Possession will be given March 1, 1914.

LEGISLATURE IS NOW ON THE LAST LAP OF SESSION

Today Marks Beginning of Final Half of the Allotted Time

ONLY ONE BILL HAS PASSED BOTH HOUSES

Committee Recommends No Impeachment for Judge Sampson

FRANKFORT, KY., Feb. 9.—With to-day the 1914 session of the General Assembly is half over and to-morrow it begins on the last lap of the sixty-days' session. Although half concluded only one bill has been passed both branches of the Legislature and gone to the Governor, this being the Booles bill, practically a local measure having for its purpose the levying of a special tax for the rebuilding of Spencer county's courthouse, which was destroyed by fire about a year ago.

With so many bills on the orders of the day in both the House and Senate and ready for passage this should be one of the busiest weeks of the session, and unless something unforeseen occurs such as the smallpox situation becoming more acute, many measures should be finally acted upon in both branches before the week-end adjournment. However, it is generally agreed that in the event the smallpox situation becomes more tense or any more of the members become infected that it will be impossible to hold the rest in Frankfort and an adjournment of at least twenty days forced. Indeed, the sentiment is strong among the legislators that such an adjournment or recess should have been taken last week until all danger was passed.

The Special House Committee which has been considering the impeachment proceeding instituted against Circuit Judge Fleming D. Sampson, of the Thirty-fourth Judicial District, this afternoon on the convening of the House submitted its report, recommending that no articles of impeachment be brought against Judge Sampson. The report is voluminous and covers a review of the testimony and the law relating to impeachment.

The "probe" committees are still up to their ears investigating, and numerous meetings are scheduled for the coming week. The Hall special Senate investigating Committee, which has been delving into the affairs of various State departments and institutions, is expected to make reports this week covering its "probe" in several of the institutions it has gone into and there are rumors that its finding in some instances will prove mighty interesting reading.

AMERICANS DIE IN TUNNEL WRECK

Fifteen Victims of Revengeful Plans of Mexican Bandits

CUMBRE, CHIHUAHUA, Feb. 9.—Charred bones and several metal buttons and buckles from clothing were the only traces discovered yesterday of the bodies of the 50 or more passengers and crew of the train wrecked in the Cumber tunnel of the Mexico and Northwestern Railway Wednesday. At least 15 Americans perished.

A rescue party, equipped with oxygen helmets to guard them against the effects of the smoke and fumes of the still-smoldering wreckage, made their way from the south portal of the tunnel over the wreckage of the burned freight train to the locomotive and forward cars of the passenger train.

Nothing remained of the cars but the metal frames and trucks, and it is believed that the bodies of the imprisoned American and Mexican passengers must have been destroyed by the intense heat.

The wreckage is buried under from five to ten feet of earth and rock from the caved-in walls and roof of the tunnel. It is possible that this covering of earth may have protected some of the bodies, but little hope is entertained for the recovery of any of them in view of the evidence of the intense heat developed by the fire fanned by the draft through the narrow bore.

It is expected by tomorrow the heat will have abated sufficiently to enable laborers to begin the work of clearing away the debris so that a thorough exploration may be made. The mass of wrecks rear the north portal is still burning fiercely.

It was near this portal that the body of Juan Fernandez, rear brakeman and only survivor of the catastrophe, was found. He had struggled to within 300 feet of the entrance when he succumbed. He was found in a sitting posture with a handkerchief tied about his nose and mouth as a protection against the smoke and gas.

JUVENILE COURT OFFICERS PROBE DELINQUENCY CASE

Prominent Men Implicated in Affair Which Stirred Queen City

PARISIAN ACCUSED ENTERS DENIAL

Two Confess to Charge of Contributing to Girl's Delinquency

A case which has attracted attention in Cincinnati, as well as in this city, was the trial of Mildred Crane, a sixteen-year-old girl, who was charged with being a delinquent, and who, it was stated in a Cincinnati paper, last Friday morning, gave out a statement in which it was alleged that a number of prominent men had contributed to her delinquency. Among the numbers mentioned were Brent Arnold, General Freight Agent of the Louisville & Nashville railroad, whose home is in Cincinnati, and George Alexander, president of the Alexander Banking Co., and a wealthy citizen of this city. Probation officers in Cincinnati have been conducting a thorough investigation into the story of the girl, who, it is said, made visits to the establishment conducted by Lillian Boeares, a manicurist, in Cincinnati, where she was introduced to men, the names of whom were withheld by order of Judge Caldwell, presiding at the sessions of the Juvenile Court, but a Cincinnati newspaper secured the names alleged to have been imparted to the Court, which resulted in their publication.

The fact that a number of prominent men were involved caused quite a stir in the Queen City, and at the trial, held Friday afternoon before Judge Caldwell, the Crane girl was adjudged a delinquent and was held pending the prosecution of the Boeares woman. It was upon the testimony of George Richter, a chauffeur, with whom she had relations in January, that the girl was held by the Court as a delinquent.

Mr. Alexander was ill at his home on Pleasant street, where he has been confined for the past three weeks, when he received the information that his name had been linked with the proceedings in the Juvenile Court at Cincinnati. When seen Friday evening, he was able to sit up and gave out a statement in which he stoutly maintained his innocence of the alleged charges placed against him in the Cincinnati newspapers, and declared that the matter was ridiculous and absurd.

"It is very unfortunate that I should have been drawn into this affair," said Mr. Alexander, "but I am as innocent as a baby of the charges made by the girl, and the first intimation I had of being involved was when I was apprised of the newspaper article, and of my name being linked with the affair."

"Did you know Mildred Crane?" was asked.

"I never saw the girl in my life," he replied, "neither do I know the woman to whose home it is said she was taken. The accusation is infamous, slanderous, and absolutely without foundation. My last visit to Cincinnati was on New Years' Day. While there I was the guest of Brent Arnold. Since that time I have given my attention to my business, until three weeks ago, when I became ill. The motive, I think, is purely one for gain, otherwise it would have been impossible for them to have identified me with the disgraceful proceedings."

"I have been informed," said he, "that Mildred Crane is said to have letters and telegrams bearing my signature. If such letters and telegrams are in her possession they are forgeries, but I question the truth or such report."

Mr. Alexander did not seem perturbed over the affair, other than the embarrassment to which he had been subjected through having his name involved.

In the Juvenile Court, Saturday, Lillian Boeares was given a fine of $350 and a thirty days suspended sentence for contributing to the delinquency of the girl. George Richter, who figured in the case, plead guilty to the charge of contributing to her delinquency, was fined $5 and costs and sentenced to thirty days in the workhouse, which was suspended on application of the assistant prosecutor. The cases of Elizabeth Bowen were continued until this week, when they will come up for a hearing before Judge Gorman, the newly appointed Judge of the Juvenile Court, instead of Judge Caldwell, whose term of office expired Saturday.

Nothing remained of the cars but the metal frames and trucks, and it is believed that the bodies of the imprisoned American and Mexican passengers must have been destroyed by the intense heat.

The wreckage is buried under from five to ten feet of earth and rock from the caved-in walls and roof of the tunnel. It is possible that this covering of earth may have protected some of the bodies, but little hope is entertained for the recovery of any of them in view of the evidence of the intense heat developed by the fire fanned by the draft through the narrow bore.

It is expected by tomorrow the heat will have abated sufficiently to enable laborers to begin the work of clearing away the debris so that a thorough exploration may be made. The mass of wrecks rear the north portal is still burning fiercely.

It was near this portal that the body of Juan Fernandez, rear brakeman and only survivor of the catastrophe, was found. He had struggled to within 300 feet of the entrance when he succumbed. ### BURLESON PUTS BAN ON POSTMASTER'S CONVENTIONS

Postmaster General Burleson has announced that he did not approve of postmasters' conventions under present conditions. He said too much time is lost on the part of postmaster and other employees, and that besides he was inclined to believe that at this time the tendency of the postal service is toward "over-organization."

It was explained, however, that this resolution was not to "organization" within the service for official purposes but to "the numerous national, sectional and state associations of postmasters, clerks, rural and city letter carriers." The activities of such associations, Mr. Burleson said, engrosses the attention of their officers and agents who are postal employees, and their conventions take a large part of all postal employees away from their duties several days each year.

The Postmaster General's opinions were set forth in his response to a letter from Senator Byrd, of Georgia, who inquired about the attitude of his department. He wrote the Senator that he believed "no great amount of constructive endeavor would be promoted by conventions," pointing out that during the year many new appointments will be made of postmasters, and those whose terms are about to expire are not likely to be interested.

When the tentative plans now being promulgated by the department's postal experts are matured and more generally understood by the postmasters, Mr. Burleson said, "such conventions can be made of great use in promoting an exchange of views among the postmasters and of solving difficulties of administration. At the present time, however, it is essential that the postmasters be kept at their post of duty."

The offer of a seat in Congress is made to Representative James T. Webb of Graves County, if he puts the legal ban on tight skirts, low necks, short sleeves and thin stockings. Applause greeted a petition sent to the Speaker's desk in Frankfort a few days ago by Webb. It follows:

"I wish to solicit your vote and influence in the passing of a bill introduced by one Kentucky's Representatives. It is the bill regarding tight skirts. Amend the bill which requires skirts to be 30 inches by making them 36 inches. Also, make a clause in the bill against low necks, short sleeves and also thin stockings. You will always have our kindest regards. Do this and we will send you to Congress" —MRS. D. B. E."

ROAD ENGINEERS FAVOR TAX LEVY OF FIVE CENTS

The State Road Engineers' Association in session in Frankfort, went on record at its meeting as favoring the bills to revise the present road law and levy a tax of 5 cents for State aid in road building, to use the motor vehicle license tax fund. To supplement this, the election of county engineers by the Fiscal Courts, and an amendment to House Bill No. 162, revising the road law, to provide that dirt roads must be completed by October 1 instead of July 1. They also adopted a resolution favoring a four-year term, instead of two for road engineers and making the term begin January 1 instead of October 1.

Before adjourning the engineers adopted resolutions thanking the State Commissioner of Roads, R. C. Terrell, and his department for aid given.

The following officers were elected: Charlie Wilson, Nelson county, president; Jacob Straus, Larue county; W. H. Edwards, Woodford county, and W. P. Caldwell, Boyle county, vice-presidents; J. G. Baxter, Madison county, secretary, and R. C. Terrell, J. R. M. Gaines, Jefferson county; W. B. Paynter, Anderson county; R. S. Davis, Fayette county; J. R. Thomas, McCracken county; M. G. Sullivan, Whitley county, Executive Committee.

THEATRICAL.

The Alamo Today.

There will be presented at the Alamo Theatre today a five-part motion picture production of Henry M. Bloom's great American racing play, "Checkers." The only and original Thomas W. Ross, who created the role and played it for more than one thousand performances, is again seen in the silent drama in the same part in which he appeared on the speaking stage. The film version has been produced by the All Star Feature Corporation, the makers of "Arizona," at a tremendous expense, and with a cast of 150 people. In order to secure the proper atmosphere for the production, to gain the necessary local color, the large company of players were quartered at the Laurel, Mo. race track for several weeks to secure the scenes of the horse races, the betting ring, etc. "Checkers" great scene, when with his last worldly possession on a hundred to one shot, he pleads and begs with remorse to win a winner, is vividly depicted. There is a gripping effect throughout the whole film which holds the audience spellbound with delight, and which only relaxes after the last scene is shown.

Often a thoroughbred horse bounding down the stretch in a neck and neck finish, with ten thousand people in the grandstands going mad with enthusiasm, and "Checkers" alone roofing "Come on, Remorse" and then, when he had won, rushing up and literally grabbing the horse in fond embrace, is but one scene that grows in depth and will linger for many days to come.

OUR LIQUID RESOURCES

Effort to Be Made to Restore Popular Watering Places.

The State of New York is engaged in an effort to revive the glories of Saratoga. Thirty-seven fine mineral springs properties have been acquired at a cost of a million dollars, and a large additional appropriation has been requested by the commission that the advantages of the spring may be made more available.

Notwithstanding a certain resemblance, "spas" are not like "the little brook." They come and go as the fashions of the day. At one time Saratoga vied with Niagara Falls as the first stopping place in the life-journey of the newly-weds. Vast casinos entertained the fashionable, to whom the waters were but an incident. And then something happened. The searchers for health or pleasure began to drift to other places, and comparatively speaking, Saratoga became "sweet Auburn."

There are springs in Kentucky that have welled to the surface unheeded since ante-bellum days. Perhaps a State commission might revive the good old days when thousands sought the magic waters of the celebrated Blue Lick Springs, as justly and as renowned as Kentucky's other famous old product—Bourbon whisky. Too, too, has salubrious springs that have been neglected for many years. While we are in an age of conservation, why not pay a little attention to our liquid resources?—[Cincinnati Times-Star.]

A QUIERY.

Are Americans Forgetting the Art of Conversation?

The query may seem unprogressive—but where is the fine art of conversation? Once upon a time there was such a thing. Men thought enough of their sayings over knife and fork to publish volumes of "tabletalk," and were invited to dine for the spice they added to the host's provender. Today words are too tame to enhance our gustatory delights. We must have the beating of drums and the crashing of cymbals, an assault that drowns out verbal intercourse, if we would have the sense of "dining." We may roar across the table above the stridency of the cabaret, but the old intimacies of fellow-diners are gone. It is like hauling a friend across a chasm of thunders.

But it is not alone in dining that we neglect conversation. Run over the list of your diversions and discover if you can, one in which conversation plays a part. In "auction" or in "bridge" silence is peremptory, and after the game is completed it produces conversation that but echoes the mute play of the cards. As you plodded along in the old waltzes, two steps and square dances there was a wealth of opportunity to indulge in conversation. But in the acrobatic and contortionistic tango you have as much ability or inclination to recite your partner with a presumably witty remark as has a pink-tinted Herculean leaping a giant swing.

Many of us find our sole dramatic delight in the motion picture, in which the action dispenses with the word. Dialogue, which is nothing more than imaginary conversation wears us. Actors, for lack of public demand, no longer possess the ability to interpret the written word clothed in blank verse. With the exception of Forbes-Robertson and a few others, who have caught up the flickering torch of a bygone day, our tragedians seem to have lost the music of verse and to have substituted the monotony of their own dull ears for the magic cadence of poetry. The lecture, an intellectual form of monologue that stimulated the art of conversation, has given way to the silent message of newspaper and magazine.

Evolution moves in aeons. The little details of the years make up the movements of the centuries. Are we drifting toward a sign language?—[Cincinnati Times-Star.]

FOREST NOTES.

BOURBON WRITES IN POULTRY IDEA

The Legislatures of Virginia and South Carolina are considering advanced forestry legislation.

Incense cedar is proving valuable for piling on the Pacific coast where marine borders are particularly troublesome.

The paper used by the Government printing office each year requires approximately 125 million pounds of rag pulp and 490 million pounds of wood pulp.

F. A. Elliott, State Forester of Oregon, says that co-operative fire patrol associations among lumbermen for prevention of forest fires have proved their worth.

Of 606 fires last year on the National forests of Arizona, New Mexico and Oklahoma, more than one-half were caused by lightning. Campers set about one-tenth, and railroads one-twentieth.

Roadside signs, each containing a single catchy sentence in large type,
are proving effective in warning against fires in Western forests. They give the general idea of the importance of protection against forest fires.

The war department is foresting a large area near Fort Bayard, New Mexico, for use as an army hospital
site.

The light house reservations on the great lakes are able to grow all the white cedar needed for spar buoys in their district.

The Kaibab and the Coconino Nation forests adjoin each other. Yet it takes from two to three days to get from one to the other.

There are several bands of the Per-ian fat-tailed sheep on the National forests of Southern Utah. The large fat tail sometimes weighs as much as forty pounds, and, like the hump on the camel, is a reserve supply of nourishment when food is lacking.

Dr. E. B. Fernow, dean of the forest school at the University of Toronto, and Bristow Adams, of the U.
S. Forest Service, have just been elected President and Secretary, respectively, of the Society of American Foresters, the only organization of professional foresters in the Western hemisphere.

Sympathy is great stuff. When a man comes home at night and finds that his wife has a headache he wants to go out and get one too.

There is mighty little of a woman
that you can't see in a department store window nowadays.

After figuring it all out I have come to the conclusion that a girl would freeze to death if she was compelled to wear red underwear.

VERDICT OF DEATH.

Ex-Priest Schmidt Convicted of Autumn Murder.

Hans Schmidt, former priest, who murdered Anna Amlauer, in New York several months ago, and has been dismembered body into the Hulton River, was found guilty of murder
in the first degree.

This verdict calls for death in the electric chair. Schmidt is to be sentenced to-morrow.

Schmidt, whose defense was insanity, laughed bitterly when the guilty verdict was pronounced. He had vigilantes declare himself to be guilty, and his statement before being held for the Supreme Court pleaded that he be punished.

Later he protested again, this in sanity defense advanced by his attorney, and said he would not assist his lawyers in any way if they prepared an appeal.

"I would rather die to-night than tomorrow," he said. "It is better to be and as I wish it."

This was the second trial. The first was out a few minutes less than four hours. At the first trial the jury disagreed.

Alients for the prosecution in-fense supplied most of the testimony
at both trials.

Schmidt's counsel hoped that if he was acquitted on the ground of insanity, the degree of guilt fixed by the jury would be second degree murder, for the jurors, in giving out for instructions shortly after retiring, were informed by Justice Vernon M. Davis that if they wished they could pronounce a verdict less severe than death.

A. G. Koelbel, of Schmidt's counsel, asserted after the verdict that owing to the former priest's presence silence concerning the crime, had not been possible to place all the facts before the jury. He said Schmidt was not guilty of murder
but had shielded a physician after the woman's death.

"She was not murdered," the lawyer declared. "If the girls had spun energy they could get at the truth."

The lawyer was undecided whether he would take an appeal.

"Father Schmidt will never go to the electric chair," he added.
Anna Amlauer's body was cut up with a knife in Schmidt's flat on September 2, and the pieces, in several bundles, were tossed into the Hudson River, where most of them were found before Susan was discovered against Schmidt. The head never recovered.

Schmidt, in his confession to Inspecteur Faurot said he was commanded to make a "sacrifice" of the Amlauer girl's life by his patron, S.
Elizabeth.

Schmidt told the Inspector that he had murdered the girl he had married her, performing the ceremony himself.

Dr. Ernest A. Muret, a deniable Schmidt's friend and companion, who was arrested shortly after the former priest was accused of murder, was sentenced in October to seven years in the Federal Penitentiary of Atlanta
after his conviction for counterfeiting.

Schmidt declared at Muret's trial that it was he and not Muret who planned the counterfeiting operations.

BRIDE AND FORTUNE

Of $300,000 in Won by North Carolina Telegraph Boy.

For the delivery of a message in his rounds as a telegraph boy to Miss Lila Johnson, of Lynchburg, Va., six months ago, Sylvanus Gray, of Durham, N. C., finds himself $300,000 richer today.

The boy's service to the young woman resulted in an immediate secret marriage. She returned home but desperate illness a few days ago called him by automobile one hundred miles to her. She told her family
the story.

A few days after that her uncle
William Johnson, of Elizabethtown, ended his life. His will gave her a fortune of $300,000, but he changed the will before his death, and Gray gets all.

South Oregon, N. J., now obtains its water supply from three municipally owned artesian wells.

ATHLETIC CLUB TO GIVE
SHOW TOMORROW NIGHT

John B. McKee, manager of the Blue Grass Athletic Club, has announced that the next show of the club will be staged at the Lexington Opera House on the night of Wednesday, Feb. 11. This announcement has been greeted with great enthusiasm throughout Central Kentucky and was soon followed by news from Frankfort that fully fifty and possibly more Senators and Representatives now gathered in that city for the present session of the Legislature would come to Lexington for the purpose of being present at the exhibition.

The card arranger for the occasion includes two distinct features. The first is a ten round bout between Al
White, touted as the coming bantamweight champion of the world and "Bud" White, a little fellow of considerable class. Welsh hails from Cincinnati, and is backed up with a good record, while White obtained his start in the world at Toronto, Canada.
White has sent many an aspirant for the title to the floor for the count, and enjoys a large following who believe in his prowess as a boxer.
Experts are of the opinion that these boys are exceedingly well matched and should put up an excellent boxing exhibition.

The joint feature will be a ter-round mill between "Handsome Kid" Beidel, of Cincinnati, and the Cuban Wonder, of New Orleans. These men will go into the ring at 133 pounds Beidel is noted as a hard hitter and as having remarkable endurance
while the Cuban Wonder is likewise endowed with a telling punch, and will fight from the first sound of the gong until the last.

The card will also include a number of good preliminaries.

WHEREAS, It is deemed desirable to reduce the boundaries of the City of Paris by taking out of and excluding from the City of Paris the follow-term of the Bourbon Circuit Court.

storm the Hotel Savoy, in New York.
He was lodged in the police station.

Rushed the Order

A TRAVELING Salesman, while in Nashville, Tenn., took a large order, promising delivery in ten days. It would take two days for the order to reach the Home Office by mail. It took him only a few minutes to telephone the order from a pay station of the Bell Telephone system.

THEATRICAL.

The Columbia Today.

"Where the Road Forks" (American) A two-reel allegorical gem in which Winifred Greenwood displays her marvelous natural ability as an actress. As Miriam Howell, the woman struggling 'twixt ambition and love, Miss Greenwood experiences the sum of human emotions, the joy of having reached the zenith of human aspirations and the deepest anguish of the soul of one dethroned from popular favor. The production includes the Jewel scene from the opera of "Maurice," and is gorgeously staged. A Keystone comedy reel, "A Ride for a Bride," will also be shown. (adv)

"Two Old Confederates."

"Two Old Confederates" and the Southern Quartette, presenting the "Songs and Stories of the Old Plantation" the good old times of Dixie, will be the attraction at the Ben Theatre, in Lexington, for one performance, Monday, February 16. The "Two Old Confederates" who followed "Marse Bob Lee" through the trying days of '61 to '64 are genuine specimens of the old Virginia country gentlemen of anti-bellum days. In their stories and songs they give, as only they can give, a true picture of the old times on the old Southern plantation. They are assisted in their performance by a quartette of genuine Virginia negroes, who sing the old-time songs just as they used to sing them around their cabin doors evening or at the corn-husking, or in the cotton fields in the days of the long ago. One critic has said of this quartette of negroes: They look like term hands and sing like Carousos." This is the most unique performance ever presented on any stage or platform and can never be duplicated. It is as entertaining and as amusing as any minstrel show, and as instructive as a well-written history. At all their performances the two old Confederates are glad to have as their personal guests on the stage, in uniform, many of the "boys" who followed Grant or Lee."

Prices 25, 50, 75c.

JURY IN SCOTT COUNTY MURDER CASE DISAGREES

Failing to agree upon a verdict, Circuit Judge R. L. Stout Saturday afternoon finally discharged the second jury in the case of Church Bradley, indicted for the murder of Dr. J. W. Davis about a year ago, on trial at Georgetown. An interesting fact in connection with the trial is that it is alleged that each time the jury has stood 10 to 2 for conviction. Col. R. B. Franklin, of Lexington, assisted the defense, while Commonwealth's Attorney John R. Allen, of Lexington, assisted County Attorney Victor F. Bradley in the prosecution. The jury had been out on the case since about 11 o'clock Saturday morning.

FORMER PARISIAN OPENS HOSTELRY IN PINEVILLE

A news dispatch from Pineville says:

"The Continental Hotel was opened with a dinner given by R. L. Parks, manager, at which covers were laid for two hundred and fifty. The natural beauty of the building was enhanced by means of cut flowers and ferns; the dinner itself, prepared by Claude McDonald, a chef well-known in Southern hotels, was a culinary masterpiece, and the opening was in every way a success. The Pineville Orchestra was stationed in the parlor on the lower floor, and furnished music to those who desired to dance, of whom there were many.

"The Continental, which was built by the citizens of the town, is said to be the best hotel building in the State with the possible exception of some in Louisville and Lexington, and is a strikingly handsome building for a town the size of Pineville. It was designed by Mr. Graf, a Southern architect, covers a ground area of 106 x 205 feet, is three stories in height and of brick and stone construction. The interior is finished and furnished in mahogany, and the lobby, lower floor parlor, writing room and dining rooms are things of beauty of which he town is justly proud.

"Mr. and Mrs. Parks by their courteous attention and personal consideration, for each guest, made Pineville a hotel town when they were in charge of the Pineville Hotel some years ago. For the past three years they have been in charge of the Monte Vista at Big Stone Gap, Virginia, which they left to come here. The success of the Continental under their management is confidently predicted."

Mr. Parks, who is formerly of Paris was connected with the Hotel Windsor, in this city. His estimable wife was formerly Miss Bessie Armstrong, of Paris.

STATE HEALTH BOARD WARNS AGAINST SMALL POX

The State Board of Health today issued the following warning in regard to small pox:

"To the Health and Fiscal Officials and the People of Kentucky:

"Disregard of the repeated warning of this Board in regard to the danger of a widespread epidemic of small pox this winter is indicated by its existence in one-third of the counties of the State. The disease, repeatedly stamped out in many counties, has been reintroduced in the eastern section of the State through continued disregard and violation of the law and of the rules of the Board, requiring that no unvaccinated person be employed, on the part of railroad construction companies and other large employers of unskilled labor. The prompt prosecution of such violations by County Attorneys will cause the enforcement of this rule, and will save the counties of the State thousands of dollars.

"More than 25,000 cases and 335 deaths have been caused from small pox in Kentucky since 1898. The cure and prevention of this disease has cost our counties and cities $525,650 and the business loss is improperly done with reliable virus and repeated every seven years, is required by law and no person who has complied with this law has had small pox in Kentucky. It costs the average man one dollar to be vaccinated, and $140 and six to fourteen weeks isolation to have the small pox. Reliable fresh vaccine points will be furnished by this Board for the use of health authorities for $6.50 per hundred and are available at any time.

"Most of our cases of small pox are mild, but at best it is a loathsome disease. It is easy to prevent and it is unlawful not to be vaccinated. In the presence of its present widespread existence in the State intelligent people should not wait for the law to force them to an evident duty. Law abiding people have already or will now be vaccinated. Others should be required to do so by the proper authorities.

"By order of the Board:

JOHN G. SOUTH, M. D.
President

A. T. McCORMACK, M. D.
Secretary."

ODD FELLOWS' GRAND LODGE HOLDS SESSION

With more than two hundred members of the order in attendance the district meeting of the Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows was held in this city yesterday afternoon and evening and from every point of view it was one of the most successful and interesting gatherings ever held in this section of the State.

The Grand Lodge went into session yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Bourbon Lodge Hall, with Grand Master, C. B. Hatfield of Paducah presiding, and the following officers present: E. B. January, Paris, Deputy Grand Master, pro tem; R. G. Elliott, Lexington, Grand Secretary; B. G. Durham, Danville, Grand Treasurer; W. H. Shoptaugh, Millersburg, Grand Marshal, pro tem; Chas. Cledenin, Paris, Grand Chaplain, pro tem; H. C. Henson, Paris, Grand Inside Guardian, pro tem. The following were appointed a committee on credentials: G. Arnsperger, G. W. Judy and A. L. Slicer.

After the preliminaries following the selection of officers to fill the chairs occasioned by the absence of the regular grand lodge officers, the Grand Lodge Degree was conferred upon eleven Past Grandis. This followed by talks on the good of the order, made by C. B. Hatfield, R. G. Elliott, B. S. Durham, E. B. January and H. N. Northcott, the latter of Cincinnati. Past Grand to the number of seventy-five attended the afternoon session, which was a pronounced success.

The night session was attended by a large number of visitors and members of the lodge, at which the initiatory degree was conferred upon Joseph James, W. T. Kenton and David Johnson by the degree team of Bourbon Lodge under the direction of Dr. F. M. Faries and the secret work was emplified by the grand lodge of officers.

Visitors were in attendance from Lexington, Cynthiana, Millersburg, Cheshire, Nicholasville, Danville, Lancaster and the lodges from other adjoining counties had representatives here.

APPELLATE COURT SAYS CONVICTS ENTITLED TO PAROLE

The Court of Appeals holds that in indeterminate sentence convicts are entitled to a parole when their minimum term expires. This will result in the liberation of hundreds of convicts.

Concerning the probable effect of the Court of Appeals decision, D. E. O'Sullivan, Chairman of the Prison Board, made the statement that the decision will release from six hundred to seven hundred prisoners in the two penitentiaries.

Every man sentenced under the indeterminate law since June 18, 1910, will eventually be affected by the decision.

NEGRO ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF LUNACY IS DISMISSED

Harvey Fisher, who lives near Little Rock, this county, was brought before Judge C. A. McMillan, Friday, on a charge of lunacy, but after hearing the case the negro was dismissed.

It developed after Fisher's arrest that he had been drinking heavily for several days, and before hearing the case Judge McMillan thought it best to have the man examined by a physician.

Dr. F. M. Faries conducted the examination and reported to the court that as far as he had been able to ascertain there were no evidences of insanity, but that the negro was in a bad condition owing to the overindulgence in alcoholic beverages, which might have caused the temporary aberration.

Dr. Faries contended that a person's sanity should be thoroughly inquired into before being sent to an asylum.

ONE BABY

At Least Every Year Should Be Born
By One of the Members

That at least one child shall be born every year to one of the members of the scores of mothers' clubs affiliated with the Ohio State Congress of Mothers, is the unwritten law of the organization.

A suggestion to this effect is to be made by Mrs. J. A. Smith, President of the Congress of Mothers, at the next Executive Board Meeting of the organization which will be held in Cleveland, O. H. R. Conley, Director of Public Welfare in Cleveland, will be urged to establish a bureau for prenatal care at the City Hospital in that city.

"I believe the clubs affiliation with the Ohio State Congress of Mothers should make a rule that at least one child shall be born to one of themother," Mrs. Smith said. "Each club offer prizes for a 'better baby' contest. Motherhood is woman's highest attainment.

I expect to discuss the baby-year idea more fully at our Executive Board meeting to be held two weeks hence. We also will urge that the city carry out its plan to establish a bureau for prenatal instruction.
"We should have training schools for mothers, where they may be taught to care for babies in a scientific and practical manner."

SYRUP OF FIGS FOR CONSTIPATED CHILD

Delicious "Fruit Laxative" Cannot Harm Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is the real laxative, because they love its pleasant taste
and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without gripping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach ache, diarrhea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleaning" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know
a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages, and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of

Headache

is one of the common symptoms of womanly trouble, and the cause has to be removed before you can rid yourself of it entirely. A medicine that merely kills pain, does not go to the seat of the trouble, and kill the cause. What you need is a woman's medicine—one which acts directly, yet gently, on the womanly organs.

STOCK AND FARM NOTES

Louisiana cabbage is in splendid condition and every indication points to a large crop.

The Missouri nursery inspector estimates that insect pests have caused a loss of $3,000,000 a year to the farmers.

A bumper crop of citrus fruits in California was predicted for this year by E. O. McCormick, vice-president of the Southern Pacific railroad, placed prospective shipments at 10,000 cars.

Prospects for a bumper strawberry crop at Pasadena, Mount Houston and adjacent points in Texas are most flattering. Shipping in limited quantities already has been going on for some weeks. The plants are in a very healthy condition.

An unusual thing happened on Los Angeles, Calif., market last week when a shipment of green corn arrived from the Imperial Valley and this is the first time a like ship has come to market in January. It met with ready sale, being placed in the market at 75c per dozen.

The Tennessee State Horticultural Association held a meeting at Nashville, Tenn., last week which was fairly well attended. In conjunction with the business sessions an exhibition was given at which a very creditable collection of Tennessee fruit and western fruit was exhibited.

Definite standards for grading corn and the uniform application of such standards in all markets under Government supervision were announced recently by the Department of Agriculture. They will be effective July 1, next, and are expected to be of great value to corn growers and dealers.

The weather has been almost ideal for farm work during the past week in so many sections of the South and good use of it was made to prepare the land for oats and other early crops. Land in most sections has been in good condition for breaking, as there had been plenty of moisture, and frosts and other agencies have made the soil crumble when turned. Let no time be lost when the oil is in proper condition for plowing.

PAW KNOWS EVERYTHING.

Willie—Paw, what is a sense of humor?

Paw—A sense of humor is the ability to laugh at your own jokes, my son.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

She likes him to use perfume when she is engaged. But if he comes home with some on his vest after they are married you can be there till a battle.

The reason a man likes to stand round a saloon and brag about his wife is because if he went home and bragged about her she would know he was drunk.

FOR HOW LONG?

Paris Raises a Pertinent Question.

When a neighbor tells us that he has just recovered from a serious illness, the first question that naturally arises is, "How long will he keep well?" Temporary relief is one thing, but a lasting cure is a different thing. There is nothing temporary about the work of Doan's Kidney Pills is the following Paris evidence goes beyond a doubt.

Mrs. J. T. Martin, Pleasant and Seventeenth streets, Paris, Ky., says: "I suffered quite severely from pains across the small of my back and in my kidneys. The trouble alarmed me and I tried many medicines. I did not get relief, however, until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Wilson's now Chas. E. Butler & Co's) drug store. They improved my condition every way. All I have ever said raising Doan's Kidney Pills was entirely correct and I confirm my former public endorsement. They permanently cured me of my kidney trouble."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

BENEFIT BY USING CONCRETE

Farmer Adds Both Comfort and Safety, Besides Saving Money—Concrete is Not Large Item.

(By WALTER B. LEUTZ.)

Safety, economy and utility are the prime considerations in silo building and on all of these points farmers are finding themselves gainers from the use of concrete. Concrete structures are much safer and in the long run are more economical. The original cost is about the same as for silos of other materials if the farmer is able to do the work with his regular force. When the durability and lessened risk are considered it is seen that the concrete construction is economical in almost all circumstances. The concrete silo is sanitary and preserves the fodder in a satisfactory way. This fact has been demonstrated by government tests.

Farmers who have not studied the subject of concrete construction will do well to take it up. In most cases the material will be cheaper and harder than lumber. It is of high value for walks, dairy floors, milk houses, watering troughs and steps, as well as for general architectural work.

Where the farmer is able to supply the sand and gravel without much expense and has time to perform the labor of construction, or at least to supervise it, the outlay for any given piece of work will probably be less than it would be if lumber were used. The proportion of cement required is not a large item of expense.

The farmer also gains in the matter of insurance as he goes forward with his experiments in concrete construction. This is an important consideration, and he adds both comfort and safety, besides saving money.

HOW MUCH WILL SILO HOLD?

Amount Can Be Closely Calculated Provided Number and Kind of Animals Are Known.

(By A. D. WILSON.)

The amount of silage required and the size of silo needed to hold it can be quite closely calculated provided the number and kind of animals to be fed from it are known before building.

An average cow or beef animal may be fed about thirty-five pounds of silage per day and the usual period during which silage is used in this latitude will be about 210 days. Large animals or those that are being fattened may consume considerably more than thirty-five pounds per day, but this has been found a fair average.

In a silo of ordinary depth, the average weight of the silage is about forty pounds per cubic foot. Near the top of the silo, however, where the pressure is not great, it will weigh only twenty-five pounds per cubic foot while at the bottom of a thirty-five foot silo it may weigh sixty pounds. Taking these averages, if a cow eats thirty-five pounds of ensilage in a day, she will eat thirty-five fourteenths, or seven-eighths, of a cubic foot per day, and with this as a basis it is easy to determine the number of cubic feet of ensilage required to feed a cow or any number of cows throughout the season. The diameter of the silo must be such that the stock on hand can use one or two inches of silage off the top each day during the winter and at least three inches per day when summer feeding of silage is to be practiced. This is necessary to keep the silage from spoiling.

A silo ten feet in diameter is adapted to feeding ten mature cattle. One twelve feet in diameter will feed fifteen head, and one fourteen feet in diameter will meet the needs of twenty-head; but if there are thirty or more cows to feed, a sixteen-foot silo should be erected. These silos should be thirty or forty feet, or even more in height.

SOME GOOD POULTRY DOWTS

Particular Attention Should Be Paid to Drinking Fountains and Character of Feed.

Don't let the drinking fountain sit in the sun, for if you do your poultry will surely get diseased.

Don't feed sour and unwholesome food, because if you do the fowls will have indigestion and liver trouble.

Don't forget to provide shade for the poultry, the scorching hot sun will be sure to make the hens sick.

Don't keep the males in the same yards with the females. If you have no separate pen, sell them to the butcher.

Don't forget to supply grit and oyster shells. The hens need them as badly during summer as they do in the winter.

Don't resort to alcoholic mixtures or drug concoctions that stimulate and stupefy.

TO CROSS OCEAN IN FIFTEEN HOURS

The success of Rodman Wanamaker's flying boat in crossing the Atlantic Ocean in a single flight will depend almost entirely upon its motor which is to have 200 horse power, according to aviators and aeroplane constructors, who recently let it be known that other machines were in process of designing or building with a similar object in view. Glen H. Curtis, who is building the giant hydro aeroplane for the attempt, which is to be made this summer, told M. Wanamaker that a motor can be run for forty and fifty hours without mishap. The Wanamaker flier is destined to make the ocean flight in fifteen hours. The proposed route is from St. Johns, Newfoundland, to the Iris coast, and has already been mapped out by Wanamaker, who made a trip to Europe for that purpose. It calls for 1,600 miles of continuous flying to be done, if possible, between dawn and night of a single day.

FROM HIGH BRIDGE

Human Fly and Actress Jumps For The Movies.

Rodman Law, "human fly," jumped on the Williamsburg bridge in New York with a parachute. With him was Miss Constance Bennett, a motion picture actress. They were picked up wet, but happy and triumphant. Law was a motion picture "stunt." Law and Miss Bennett clung on a rail with what looked like a giant umbrella between them. Before dicemans and other would-be rescuers could reach them the pair had

The parachute spread out beautifully. Law, hanging with seeming nonchalance, looked after the safety of Miss Bennett as they fell into the water.

The wind blew the two a little to the north and toward the Brooklyn shore. A tugboat, which had been lying in wait, steamed toward them. The girl had freed herself from the parachute and was making for the tug boat, long strokes. She was pulled aboard first and then the tug took up Law.

Law has thrilled the city with more risking feats than any other man in the memory of Broadway. He has sped from the Statue of Liberty, in the Bankers' Trust Building and been blown from the mouth of a giant rocket for fun and motion pictures.
